

YOUTH BASKETBALL GUIDELINES: AGES 11-12

Full Court
5 on 5

The below playing standards and rules are to serve as guidelines and recommendations for those administering basketball competitions. We understand that organizations and facilities may not always be able to accommodate some of the recommendations. In that case, we suggest that modifications are allowed where limitations exist (i.e. inability to raise or lower the height of a basket, re-drawing court lines, or not having a shot clock).

YOUTH BASKETBALL GUIDELINES: AGES 11-12

DEFINITIONS

Player-to-Player Defense

- ▶ Each player is responsible for guarding and moving with one offensive player. This requires the defensive player to move according to the offensive player's movements with or without the ball.
- ▶ The defensive player must stay on the same side of the court as the offensive player, divided by the rim line.
- ▶ If an offensive player with the ball advances past their defensive player, another defender may rotate to guard that offensive player.

Pressing Defense: Defensive guarding, either on or off the ball, within the backcourt.

Double-Team/Crowding: Two or more defensive players guarding a single offensive player.

RATIONALE

Distance of 3-Point Arc: For 9-11 year-olds, although the 3-point arc may exist on the floor, all baskets made beyond this arc only count as two points. Therefore, the distance of the line is not applicable for these age segments. Eliminating the 3-point basket will encourage players to shoot from within a developmentally-appropriate range.

Distance of Free Throw Line: 9-11 year-olds should take free throws 14 feet from the basket to develop proper form and increase success.

Height of Basket: Utilizing a lower basket height for 9-11 year-olds allows children to develop proper shooting form and increases the opportunity for shooting success.

Scoring: All field goals for 9-11 year-olds are worth two points to encourage children to shoot within a developmentally-appropriate range. This allows for proper mechanics and form. While these age segments may attempt a shot behind the 3-point arc, any field goal made behind the arc will only count as two points.

Size of Ball: A smaller basketball for the younger age segments is advised due to the size of a child's hand as well as their developing skill level. A smaller ball allows for better control and success.

Size of Court: For 9-11 year-olds, a 74'x 50' court is more appropriate for younger children based on their relative size in space.

Omitted

YOUTH BASKETBALL GUIDELINES: AGES 11-12

Start of Game Possession: For 9-11 year-olds, a coin flip will determine the team that will start with the ball to mitigate significant differences in height and coordination among children. Alternating possession rules will then ensue throughout the game.

Timeouts: Managing the way timeouts are called allows for better game flow and decision-making by the player(s).

Double-Team/Crowding: Crowding the ball with multiple players (referred to as “double-teaming”) is not allowed for 9-11 year-olds due to skill and size discrepancies among children at these ages.

Playing Time: To ensure that all young children participating in the sport have an opportunity to experience the game, equal and fair playing time is recommended for periods 1-3, and coaches discretion in the 4th period and each extra period for 9-11 year-olds. Equal and fair playing time is encouraged throughout all segments.

Modified in tactics section above

Pressing Defense: For 9-11 year-olds, permitting player-to-player defense to extend full-court in the 4th and extra periods only allows players to become accustomed to full-court defense while not having to understand sophisticated zone presses. It also allows for an introduction to competitive tactics.

Set Defense: The player-to-player requirement for 9-11 year-olds encourages physical activity and movement, and promotes the development of individual skill related to guarding a player both on and off the ball.

Clock Stoppage: Fewer clock stoppages for 9-11 year-olds allows for a better game flow.
